Supporting your patients' stroke recovery

Rebuilding lives after stroke

Stroke
Association

We want stroke survivors and their families to know they're not alone in their recovery.

Our Stroke Association Connect service offers vital support for people affected by stroke at the very start of their journey to rebuild their life.

When your patients are discharged from hospital, we'll get in touch to see how they're getting on. We provide essential reassurance, help with any immediate questions or concerns, and crucially, connection to ongoing support which can be accessed at any time in the weeks, months and years after stroke.

Your patients can only benefit from this service if you refer them at the point of discharge home.
